Improving your buoyancy control skills is highly recommended. Every diver who wants to improve diving skills and at the same time wants to perform active environmental protection should take a PERFECT BUOYANCY course. Good buoyancy skills not only help save reefs and protect the environment but prevent you from injury. Additionally, perfect buoyancy control is a prerequisite for nearly all Specialty Courses.

Nearly every diver who wants to dive on great spots on holiday is requested to do a Check-Dive. Buoyancy control is one of the essential skills to be performed. This isn't done to stress you at the start of your holiday, but to protect the reefs you will be diving around. The destruction and harm caused by divers with weak buoyancy skills is having an impact on reefs worldwide.

In our Perfect Buoyancy Course you can expect to learn to guide yourself through obstacles we set up without touching the sides and even fin a distance underwater while holding a golf ball in a spoon without dropping it.
